

Parkview Primary Care Physicians, PLLC

Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) Care Coordinator

Growing, well established WNY Primary Care Practice seeks NYS Licensed Nurse. Candidate must maintain a high level of patient interaction/service skills. Be self-motivated, compassionate and clinically strong. Ability to triage patient and report to clinician. Provide medical direction to patients per clinician recommendation(s). Other responsibilities would include referral/test tracking, tele-health visits regarding new medication follow-up, blood pressure and glucose readings, medical reconciliation, and any other duties assigned by manager. The Care Coordinator works in collaboration and continuous partnership with chronically ill or "high-risk" patients, their family/care giver(s) and their physician.

A typical day for the Care Coordinator will entail phone calls, portal messages and office visit with these "high-risk" patients.

Duties & Responsibilities include:

- Assess patient's unmet health and social needs
- Develop a care plan with the patient, family/caregiver(s) and providers
- Monitor adherence to care plans, evaluate effectiveness, monitor progress
- Reduce emergency room utilization and hospitalization re admissions

Education / Experience:

- NYS Licensed Practical Nurse
- Evidence of essential leadership, communication, education and counseling skills
- Highly organized with ability to keep accurate notes and records
- Proactively continues to educate self on providing quality care and improving professional skills

Benefits include:

- Health insurance
- Vacation time
- Holidays
- 401k/profit sharing

We are one of the premier Primary Care offices in WNY. If you are interested in joining our team please submit your resume to parkviewprimarycare@gmail.com. Qualified candidates will be contacted by phone or email.